e-Newsletter

Oct/Nov 2011

Dear Friends,

Happy Thanksgiving to you and your families! The MEXICO Report is pleased to present our monthly e-newsletter (in this particular case, bimonthly). In the spirit of giving thanks, we just want to say that extremely thankful for your support in joining us on our mission to present and share the good news about Mexico, travel and culture in all parts of the country.

Good news is always worth sharing!

If you enjoy our reports, please feel free to share The MEXICO Report with friends, family and colleagues. Sign up for posts by email or RSS feed, or join us on Facebook and Twitter.

Highlights:

- The MEXICO Report was recently featured as a go-to site for voluntourism opportunities in Mexico, referenced by writer Christine Delsol in her latest feature article in SFGate.com (home of San Francisco Chronicle) ‘Voluntouring Offers New Way to Give Back in Mexico.’ If you are looking for any type of travel+volunteer experience, be sure to visit our non-profit section on our website. Destination PEACE is a good place to start and many of the vacations are tax-deductible (you have about 31 more days this year and deals are great right now.)
- As an ambassador for Mexico Today, we have re-launched our Facebook-exclusive ‘Social Magazine’ into phase two. All writers, photographers, bloggers and community members are encouraged to enter your stories (or to post links of stories you like) on the Mexico Today Social Magazine located on Facebook only. Ten winners are chosen per month for a $500 gift card. It's a great resource to showcase and share your stories and experiences.
- The MEXICO Report is pleased to have joined the Board of Directors for non-profit, One Town at a Time, which serves villagers in the area of Cabo Corrientes (south of Puerto Vallarta), in Jalisco, Mexico. We have launched our ‘Apples to Classrooms’ campaign that will help generate technological advancement to the area as well as stimulate education, learning and economic growth. Please join our community on Facebook and Twitter or consider making a tax-deductible donation of any kind.

- The MEXICO Report has announced its '2nd Annual Navidad Gift Guide' – we love a good deal too, but remember these items give back to the community in some way, creating better conditions for those who really need it the most.
- If you missed any of our newsletters in the past, they are now available online under 'Newsletter' or <http://www.themexicoreport.com/newsletter>.

Upcoming Events:

- January 20, 2012 - PEACE Mexico's Arte Vida Annual Fundraising Event, Casa, China Blanca in Los Veneros, Riviera Nayarit
- December 12, 2011 - Day of the Virgin of Guadalupe (Fiesta de la Virgen de Guadalupe); Mexico's biggest religious event of the year, marked by Mass and celebrations in honor of Guadalupe, Mexico's Patron Saint
- December 3, 2011 - Christmas Concert with Voices of Sor Juana and Classical Ensembles Ensenada, Baja California
- November 25-27, 2011 - Toh, Yucatan Bird Festival Yucatan,

Visit our events page for more info or if you would like to list your event.

Don't miss a post! We post news stories, personal blogs, events, trends, announcements and more at least five times a week. Subscribe to 'Post Via Email' and have the good news delivered to your email inbox each time we post an article. Be the first to know about the good news happening everyday in Mexico. Thank you for your reading The MEXICO Report!

Have a safe and Happy Holiday season!

Cheers,
